PROP's MYRIAD OF PUBLICATIONS

The Pennsylvania Recycler Magazine is published twice a year for PROP members, the Pennsylvania Legislature, and PROP Partners nationwide. PROP Fact Sheets are available by request or online. The PROPeller, PROP's electronic newsletter, and PROP Alerts are emailed to members who want to be in the know.

All of our publications are intended to provide education, information exchange, technical support, and applied research in a timely manner. It is PROP's intention to provide these publications as a resource for the general membership as well as other recyclers, organics, and solid waste professionals in the private and public sectors who seek the latest information and news pertaining to recycling, organics, and solid waste fields.

PROP Committees:

Business & Industry Certification	Government Liaison Markets
College & University	Media
Conference	Membership
Data Management	Municipal
Education	Organics
Fundraising	Universal Waste

Contact the PROP office (1-800-769-PROP or prop@proprecycles.org) if you are interested in joining any of the PROP Committees!

Professional Certification

Pennsylvania State University at Altoona and the PA-DEP partner with PROP to educate recycling and organics professionals on all aspects of the solid waste, organics and general recycling industries.

The nationally recognized PROP certification program has had over 900 attendees from across the country. There are currently 163 Certified Recycling Professionals and over 30 Senior Certified Recycling Professionals.

PROP's certification program also offers seven specializations: Composting, Processing, Collection Systems, Recycling Education, Recycling Markets, Enforcement, and Management.

If budgets constraints keep you from traveling, try PROP's Online Certification classes. They offer beneficial training for those with a busy schedule.

For more information on certification training, contact Jan Arnold at the PROP office by email at jarnold@proprecycles.org.
